APERITIVO

The State of Media Development: Report launch

What are the success stories in media development? What needs improvement? And how can we address the current funding crisis? Grab an aperitivo and join a lively discussion with international thought leaders to digest key findings from DW Akademie's new "State of Media Development" report.

As well as light refreshments, we will be serving bite-sized insights on how well the global media development sector fulfills the OECD Principles on Effective Media Support. Are you also concerned about the future of independent media in these turbulent times? Come and be part of the debate.
